SUMMARY

Driven and analytical cybersecurity practitioner with expertise in ethical hacking, vulnerability assessment, and web application security. Actively hunting for vulnerabilities on platforms like Bugcrowd, YesWeHack, and Hackerone. Backed by industry-recognized certifications and hands-on skills in penetration testing, network defense, and security research.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Jr. Penetration Tester Intern | EncryptEdge Labs

Aug 2025 – Sept 2025

- Assisted in conducting penetration tests on web applications and networks to identify security vulnerabilities.
 - Documented findings in structured penetration testing reports with clear Proof of Concept (PoC) and remediation guidance.
 - Gained practical exposure to bug bounty methodologies, exploitation techniques, and real-world red teaming scenarios.

ACHIEVEMENTS

- NASA VDP – Discovered and responsibly disclosed a security vulnerability within NASA's systems, formally acknowledged by the NASA security team.
 - Drexel University VDP – Identified and responsibly disclosed an Information Disclosure vulnerability on Drexel University's domain, recognized with an official appreciation letter by the university security team.
 - Cambridge University Press Hall of Fame – Discovered and responsibly disclosed 2 Subdomain Takeover vulnerabilities on cambridge.org, both accepted and acknowledged by Cambridge University Press.
 - PCB STORE Bug Hunting Competition — Winner – Identified and reported IDOR, Broken Access Control, and Information Disclosure vulnerabilities, recognized as a winner for responsible disclosure

PROJECTS

PwnPaper (Automated Bug Report Generator)

spondonsaha.github.io/pwn-paper

- Designed and developed a professional web-based vulnerability report generator tailored for bug bounty hunters and penetration testers.
- Implemented structured input fields covering CVSS score/vector/rating, CWE ID, severity classification, affected endpoints, and Burp Suite HTTP request/response blocks.
- Built dynamic report customization with draggable section reordering, custom section creation, and real-time auto-save functionality.
- Enabled one-click export to both PDF and Markdown formats, eliminating manual report formatting time
